

Are you looking for an exciting and meaningful opportunity to impact someone's quality of life? Are you knowledgeable and able to provide a long term supportive home?

posAbilities, a large Not- for- Profit Community Living agency is seeking interested and skilled parties to share their home and their life for persons with a developmental disability.

Shared Living providers welcome an individual into their home and offer a warm and inclusive living environment. Both parties are matched according to strengths, needs, experience, interests, personalities and more. We are looking for individuals and families who are committed to the values and principles of community living and how wish to provide a home that supports a person's needs, goals and dreams.

If you have a stable and caring home in Vancouver and have experience supporting individuals with disabilities, please submit your cover letter and résumé by email. Please include a short description of yourself, your family (if applicable) and your home and be sure to include your education and / or experience working with individuals with developmental disabilities.

Seeking Shared Living Providers ( Vancouver)

Hello!

I am looking for someone to share a home with in Vancouver. I am passionate about arts and crafts and love being around people. When I'm not at DDA drop in, I like to go to Dollar stores, convenient stores, or to the nearest thrift shop and look for bargains. My independence is really important to me, so I really like to be able to prepare some meals as best as I can on my own. Sometimes I like to be a home body and do hook rugs, other times, I like to go out for lunch or meet up with friends. It all depends on how I feel. I am hoping to look for a family where I can be independent, but is also there to support me when I need someone to talk to. My ideal house would be a place that is not busy and noisy, spacious, calming and to feel like I have choices and people to be around me when needed. I have visited a few places in BC and occasionally have spent time visiting friends in Squamish. I don't like to be away from home for long though, and only enjoy far away outings for a short amount of time. I am open to living in a place with animals. I like to be close to transit so I can go to all my activities on my own. I do need some support with banking, cleaning, and more support with medical appointments.

This is a contracted position and will require an application process, home study, health and safety check along with current first aid and CPR, clear criminal record search, and other applicable requirements.
